

Birdwatching

Australian Geographic Magazine has rated the Daintree as the second best place in Australia for birdwatching, preceded by Kakadu National Park. Stating: "The internationally recognized, World Heritage-listed Daintree attracts bird enthusiasts from all over the globe, who come to check out some of the staggering 430 different kinds of bird species. A tropical rainforest in Queensland's far north, the Daintree has wet conditions, thick forests and fast flowing rivers that act like veins supplying life to its inhabitants. Birds in the Daintree are most prevalent during summer (the wet-season)."

Daintree Secrets is the perfect place for birdwatching, and we have supplied a pair of 10 times binoculars for your enjoyment. Please leave these for other guests to use and enjoy.

Winter is perhaps the quietest time of the year for birds. The Wompoo Fruit-Doves nest just in front of the balcony and Spotted Catbirds can be seen happily eating the fruits of the many Blue Quandong trees. Monarchs and Flycatchers pass through and the raptors will be building their nests.

Spring is a treat with the Pied Imperial Pigeons and Metallic Starlings returning from winter in New Guinea while the Buff-breasted Paradise Kingfishers arrive for their breeding season. Common Koels and Channel-billed Cuckoos also return at this time.

Summer is the Wet Season and, despite the sometimes difficult conditions, can be excellent for birding. The spring arrivals are joined by the Black Bittern which can be often seen on the river or beside the numerous creeks and waterways. Kingfishers abound.

Whilst autumn sees the departure of the migrants to warmer climates, we are joined by Dollar Birds and Rainbow Bee-eaters which add to our colourful regulars.

Buff Breasted Kingfisher

Metallic Starling

Rainbow Bee-eater

Olive-Backed Sunbird

Keep your eye out for:

Ground Dwellers:

- Cassowary
  - Australian Brush Turkey
  - Orange Footed Scrub Fowl
  - Red necked Crake
  - Bush-Hen
  - Noisy Pitta
  - Emerald Ground Dove
- Casuarius casuarius ssp. johnsonii *
Alectura lathamii
Megapodius reinwardt
Rallinia tricolor
Amauromis olivaceus
Pitta versicolor
Chalcophaps Indica

Mid-Canopy Birds:

- Buff-breasted Paradise-Kingfisher
  - Little Shrike Thrush
  - Barred Cuckoo-shrike
  - Varied Triller
  - Pale-yellow Robin
  - Grey Whistler
  - Spectacled Monarch
  - Black-faced Monarch
  - Pied Monarch
  - Yellow-breasted Boatbill
  - Leaden flycatcher
  - Grey Fantail
  - Rufous Fantail
  - Northern Fantail
  - Large-billed Scrubwren
  - Large-billed Gerygone
  - Black Butcherbird
  - Spotted Catbird
  - Fairy Gerygone
  - Silvereye
  - Little Bronze Cuckoo
  - Gould's Bronze Cuckoo
- Tanyiptera sylvia
Colluricincla megarhyncha
Coracina lineata
Lalage leucomela
Tregallasia capito
Pacchycephala simplex
Monarcha trivirgatus
Monarcha melanopsis
Arses kaupi
Machaerirhynchus flaviventer
Myiagra rubecula
Rhipidura fuliginosa
Rhipidura rufifrons
Rhipidura rufiventris
Sericornis magnirostris
Gerygone magnirostris
Cracticus quoyi
Ailuroedus melanotis
Gerygone palpebrosa *
Zosterops lateralis
Chrysococcyx minutillis
Chrysococcyx russatus

* endemic to Far North Queensland

Green Spotted Catbird

Woompoo Fruit-Dove

Yellow Breasted Boatbill